DESCRIPTION

In this follow-up to the design classic Iconic Australian Houses 50/60/70, Karen McCartney, founding editor of interiors magazine Inside Out, has compiled a selection of significant examples of Australian houses of the 1970s, 80s and 90s, each brilliantly photographed and with a depth of coverage rarely seen before. Featured architects include Richard Leplastrier, Glenn Murcutt and Wood Marsh. A detailed introduction places the period in social, historical and architectural context, before each of the selected houses is individually reviewed in an informed and engaging style. In each example the relationship between the architect and owner is discussed, as is the linking of the building to its site, materials and architectural detailing. The author has interviewed many architects and owners for their personal insights. Each study includes a feature on the interior decoration and a discussion of designers and manufacturers of iconic furniture, fittings and fabrics. Iconic Australian Houses 70/80/90 features stunning photography by Michael Wee, both panoramic and detailed, throughout. The homes from these three decades form a significant part of Australian architectural history.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Features 15 houses designed by acclaimed architects including Richard Leplastrier, Glenn Murcutt and Wood Marsh.

DESCRIPTION

Tasmanian-born Charles Turnbull Harrison (1867-1914) was one of the members of Douglas Mawson's legendary Australasian Antarctic Expedition of 1911-14. Harrison joined the expedition as a biologist and artist, a part of the Western Party based on Queen Mary Land and led by Frank Wild. He was also a gifted writer and the diary he kept from December 1911 to March 1913 has been transcribed and edited by Heather Rossiter, and reproduced for the first time. Harrison's engaging narrative is complemented by his sketches and watercolour paintings of the landscape, as well as photographs of the men in the Western Base party.

By bringing Harrison's diary from obscure history to published volume, complete with his own sketches and watercolour paintings, Mawson's Forgotten Men honours the daring spirit of these lesser known but equally audacious Antarctic explorers.

- Western Base group's story has never been told in a stand-alone publication, making this a vital, original contribution to Antarctic literature.
- 2011 marks the 100-year anniversary of the departure of the Australasian Antarctic Expedition and many events and exhibitions are planned.
- Charles Turnbull Harrison's sketches and paintings used in conjunction with photographs to add an evocative layer to the book, showing the Antarctic landscape as well as the daily life of the Western Base group.

EDITOR PROFILE

Research scientist in the US and UK, teacher and vine-grower in Australia, Heather Rossiter's articles, book reviews and travel pieces have appeared in Australian and international publications. She was research consultant to the documentary, Mawson: Life and Death in Antarctica, screened on ABC and BBC TV in 2007 and her book Lady Spy, Gentleman Explorer: The Life of Herbert Dyce Murphy was short listed for the ISAA Book Award 2002. A passionate traveller, particularly to Russia and the Middle East to study archaeological sites and the arts of Islam, Heather lives in Sydney.
