DESCRIPTION

People love a fresh loaf. The way it smells, the crunch of the crust, the warm, soft texture of bread newly out of the oven. The growth of artisan bakeries and the increasing choice in supermarkets is testament to the fact that we want an alternative to the pre-packaged conformity of mass-produced baking. So why not make it ourselves? Bread is cheap to make, and a lot simpler than you might think. The Bread Revolution is a call to arms, encouraging all of us to think again about baking our own loaves. It demystifies the whole process, offering an easy repertoire of delicious savoury breads and sweet dough treats, plus down-to-earth tips. Its 60 inspiring recipes range from soda bread to potato and rosemary, healthy multi-seed wholemeal to an amazing sourdough that can fit in your busy schedule. Central to the book is the idea that bread can be a meal in itself, with ideas for quick lunches, children's teas and evening meals. Plus cinnamon Danish pastries and hot cross buns, and a host of thrifty recipes for your bread leftovers, from summer gazpacho to winter-warming bread and butter pudding.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Affordable, easy recipes to make bread making accessible to everyone from novices through to experienced cooks.
- Contains 60 recipes including enriched white bread, sourdough, English muffins, doughnuts and hot cross buns.
- Tips on how to save money by using every last piece of the bread with recipes such as bread and butter pudding, croutons and stuffing.
- Duncan Glendinning and Patrick Ryan have a rapidly growing profile and are two of the strongest names to watch on the UK food scene.
- Duncan has been named a Food Hero in the Good Housekeeping Food Awards and he and Patrick were shortlisted for the BCE Environmental Leadership Awards for their ethical, green approach and use of organic, local and foraged ingredients.
- Duncan and Patrick are set to appear in a three-part series on the BBC in late 2011.

AUTHOR PROFILE

Duncan Glendinning began as a web designer, but put down his mouse to pick up a trowel and start growing his own veg. He met Dick and James Strawbridge and featured in the tv show It's Not Easy Being Green, then in Tribe Wanted, where he was an eco consultant in Fiji. Here he met chef Patrick Ryan, and hatched the plan for The Thoughtful Bread Company, which is now acclaimed as a leading ethical business as well as for its fantastic baking. Their breads are to be found everywhere from Michelin-starred restaurants to children's lunch packs.

DESCRIPTION

Vintage Knit Knacks is a fun, project-based guide to knitting aimed at knitters of all abilities. The title has two meanings: first, the book shows readers how to make a range of fun and original knick-knacks; second, the projects are designed to help beginners pick up the 'knack' of knitting. The book starts with a section on the basics of knitting, and then features 20 original and creative projects, including a cafetière warmer; a cushion cover; a wall clock; camera case; fingerless mitts and a hot water bottle cover.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Original projects to make for your home and fun creations to wear
- Designed to be used by knitters of all abilities, from beginners to experienced crafters
- Each one has beautiful full-colour photography of the finished pieces and easy-to-follow knitting patterns.

AUTHOR PROFILE

Sue Culligan studied graphics and photography at Brighton College of Art. Having been a passionate knitter since childhood, she decided to start her own business designing and selling children's knitwear in a tiny shop in Brighton, so in 1981 Kangaroo (woolly jumpers!) was born. The business evolved over the years to become a yarn shop, then finally the internet business that it is today. Sue also writes the yarn review for Knitting magazine and is the author of The Knitting Stitch and Motif Directory. She now spends much of her time in France, where she runs a B&B and knitting retreat.

DESCRIPTION

When love goes cold, the result isn't apathy, it is raw hatred. Couples once madly in love can't stand the sight of one another. A husband who once adored his wife dreams of being rid of her. A teen sees red when his parents pull him into line. In more than fifty per cent of murder cases, the victims are known to their killer: they are a lover, husband, wife or child. They are family. From a poisoning grandmother to a sisterly stabbing, this book tells the stories of Australia's most notorious family murders of the past century, in chilling – but fascinating – detail.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Shocking and fascinating accounts of murder striking close to home
- A lively and accessible collection of stories.
- Pacy and well researched.
- Ideal for fans of true crime.

AUTHOR PROFILE

Wendy Lewis has written for stage, screen, television and radio. Her books range from history to true crime, with an emphasis on contemporary Australia. Her recent publications include Gone: Twenty-five of the World's Most Chilling and Bizarre Kidnappings, and Caught Out! Scandals, Lies and Cover-ups.

ALSO IN THIS SERIES:

The Australian Book of Disasters 9781741969023 (Oct 11);
The Australian Book of Great Trials 9781742661315 (Feb 12)
